A New Basketball Star

Jason had never been particularly interested in basketball. Sure, he'd seen his dad, once a local high school star, glide across the court in countless old videos, his signature style combined grace and power that had earned him a place in the town's hall of fame. But to Jason, those videos felt like a distant echo — a legacy he never wanted to chase. Instead, he preferred to lose himself in the world of video games, where he could be a hero without hearing the meaningful whispers of expectations that seemed to follow him everywhere.

It was a regular Friday PE lesson when Mr. Carter, the gym teacher, decided to mix things up. Instead of the usual routine, he announced a small basketball tournament. Jason stood in the corner, nervously watching the others who formed teams. Though he clearly remembered practicing ring throwing with his father, it felt like a duty rather than a hobby. But as he watched his classmates laugh and cheer on their friends, Jason felt an unexpected rush of adrenaline. He stepped forward, ignoring the knots in his stomach, and found himself asking to join the nearest team.

As the game progressed, Jason discovered a rhythm he never knew he had. With every dribble and shot, he felt his self-doubt weaken. His father's old moves appeared in his memory, helping him play with surprising ease. To his astonishment, he found himself scoring three-pointers, and his classmates were cheering him on. At that moment of fleeting fame, he understood that the court was more than just a place to score points; it was where he could reveal a part of himself that he didn't even know existed.

By the end of the day, Jason was riding high on the waves of newfound confidence. As the final whistle blew, the team had claimed victory. But more important was the realization that he had stepped out of his father's shadow and made a name for himself, at least for one afternoon. Inspired by the sense of belonging and achievement, he signed up for the school basketball team that trained very week, and was ready to make his own way.

A. Before the PE lesson Jason ...

- 1) was very enthusiastic and eager to play basketball.
- 2) had a deep passion for the sport.
- 3) was a well-known basketball player at his school.
- 4) had little interest in basketball and preferred video games.

B. Mr. Carter was ...

- 1) Jason's father, a basketball star.
- 2) the school principal.
- 3) the PE teacher who organized the basketball tournament.
- 4) a famous basketball coach.

C. While playing the game Jason felt ...

- 1) fear of failure.
- 2) a sense of adrenaline and excitement.
- 3) disappointment in his skills.
- 4) indifference to the game.

D. Choose the true sentence.

- 1) He felt he would always live in his father’s shadow.
- 2) He gained confidence and felt he could be his own person.
- 3) He realized he had no talent for sports.
- 4) He decided to quit basketball altogether.

E. After the basketball tournament Jason decided ...

- 1) to sign up for the school basketball team.
- 2) to focus on video games.
- 3) to never play basketball again.
- 4) to move to a different school.

An Unexpected Encounter

One sunny Saturday afternoon Sarah, an ordinary 16-year-old student, instead of sticking to the usual route to meet her friends at the park, decided to take a shortcut through a neighbourhood she didn't know much about. With her headphones on and her favourite playlist on, she was all set for the mini-exploration.

As she was walking down a couple of side streets, Sarah spotted a sign that read "Paws & Claws Pet Shelter". Her heart skipped a beat. She had always had a weakness for animals — especially cute, fluffy puppies. Unable to resist the temptation, she turned off her way and headed for the shelter. As soon as she stepped inside, she was greeted by a chorus of barking and meowing. It was like she had entered another world filled with wagging tails and curious noses. Inside, Sarah was greeted by the shelter's owner, Mrs. Thompson, an elderly lady with a warm smile and a heart full of love for all the animals.

While she was exploring the rows of eager animals, Sarah found that her attention was drawn to a scruffy little terrier named Max. He had this goofy look in his eyes, and she couldn't help but laugh when he tried to play with her shoelaces. There was this instant connection between them, and Sarah felt warmth as she imagined how great it would be to have him as a friend. For a moment, she forgot all about her friends waiting in the park, as Max captured her attention with his playful tricks.

Eventually, after what felt like forever but was really just an hour, Sarah realized she had to head back. As she waved goodbye to Mrs. Thompson and Max, who gave her one last hopeful look, something clicked in Sarah's mind, and she found herself wanting to be a part of that warmth. Now, Sarah left with a strong intention to persuade her parents to adopt the dog. Besides, she made up her mind to volunteer at the shelter, helping out wherever she could and giving those animals the love they deserved.

A. On that Saturday Sarah planned ...

- 1) to visit the pet shelter.
- 2) to meet her friends at the park.
- 3) to explore a new neighborhood.

- 1) a group of children playing.
- 2) a park filled with flowers.
- 3) a coffee shop with a long line.
- 4) a sign of a shelter.

C. When she entered the pet shelter, Sarah met ...

- 1) the mayor of the town.
- 2) her friends from the park.
- 3) the shelter's owner.
- 4) a group of volunteers.

C. When she first encountered Max, Sarah felt ...

- 1) indifferent and uninterested.
- 2) amused and connected.
- 3) scared and hesitant.
- 4) annoyed by his tricks.

E. After her visit to the shelter Sarah made a decision ...

- 1) to adopt Max immediately.
- 2) to forget about Max and go to the park.
- 3) to persuade her parents to adopt the dog and to volunteer at the shelter.
- 4) to return home and listen to music.

Any Role Is Important

Fred had always been the kind of a guy who preferred chilling with his friends over being the center of attention, so when the drama teacher announced auditions for a school play, he felt a wave of panic wash over him. The thought of standing on stage in the spotlight with everyone watching his every move made him want to hide under his bed instead of being in the centre of attention. The idea of acting, especially in front of a crowd, seemed more terrifying than fun. Deep down, though, there was a little part of him that wondered if maybe, just maybe, he could surprise himself.

As the audition day came, Fred became more nervous. His friends were excited and full of ideas about roles they wanted to play, while he stood there, keeping his hands in the pockets, doubting his decision to come at all. Then it was finally his turn. Fred's heart raced like it was about to jump out of his chest as he entered the audition room, the eyes of the casting committee members glared at him. He mumbled his lines, each word feeling heavier than the last, and it was no surprise when he felt a flush of embarrassment wash over him.

After the auditions were over, Fred was relieved that it was all done, but a part of him couldn't shake the feeling that he had missed something special. He watched as his friends celebrated their roles, filled with excitement for the upcoming rehearsals. Fred felt regret for not pushing himself to step out of his comfort zone and let his fear take the wheel.

A few days later, as he sat in the cafeteria listening to his friends discuss their characters, Fred realized that perhaps it wasn't too late to be involved in the drama club, only in a different way. Instead of acting, he could help with setting design or lighting, something that kept him behind the scenes but still part of the amazing experience. With a newfound determination, Fred decided to step forward and take his own space in the world of theatre, proving that sometimes participating in something can be just as fulfilling, regardless of whether you're in the spotlight or not.

A. Choose the true sentence.

- 1) He was excited about auditions and eager to perform.
- 2) He was indifferent and didn't care about the auditions.
- 3) He felt a wave of panic and wanted to hide.
- 4) He was confident and prepared to shine on stage.

B. During his audition Fred felt ...

- 1) calm and collected.
- 2) nervous and embarrassed.
- 3) happy and enthusiastic.
- 4) excited and ready to perform.

C. After the auditions were over Fred regretted ...

- 1) that he hadn't sung a song.
- 2) that he had forgotten his lines.
- 3) that he hadn't tried out for a different role.
- 4) that he hadn't pushed himself to step out of his comfort zone.

D. Fred came up with an idea to ...

- 1) become a director of the play.
- 2) become an actor in a different play.
- 3) help with decorations or lighting.
- 4) play the lead role next time.

E. By the end of the story Fred realized that ...

- 1) participation in any role could be satisfying.
- 2) being in the spotlight was the only way to enjoy theatre.
- 3) auditions were not worth the stress.
- 4) only the best actors deserved to be in a play.

A Missed Concert

At last, this day has come, and Mary is practically buzzing with excitement. She's been counting down the days for what feels like ages, and today is supposed to be epic. Her favorite band, the one she listens to on repeat, is playing just a few blocks away. Mary can already imagine herself singing along, dancing with her friends and just soaking in the atmosphere of pure music pleasure. Everything seemed perfect — until it happened.

That morning, though, Mary woke up with a strange feeling. At first, she thought it was just a case of nerves or maybe a bit of a stomach ache from all those snacks she had been eating in anticipation. However, as the hours passed, her excitement slowly turned into worry. Her head was pounding and her body felt heavier than usual. When her mum came in to check her temperature, the expression on her face said it all: Mary was definitely going to miss the concert of her dreams.

As she lay there, scrolling through social media, each post about the concert felt like a pain in her heart. Friends were posting group selfies, excitement practically radiating from the screen, and every notification was a reminder of what she was missing. The thought of her favourite band playing live just two steps away from her, while Mary was stuck in bed, made her feel even worse. It was like watching a movie where all the best parts happened without her. Mary couldn't help but feel a little envy toward everyone else who was having the night of their lives without her.

But even in her disappointment, Mary remembered her friends that were attending. She texted them to enjoy and promised she'd catch up with them later to hear all about it. Mary's mum supported her and said that sometimes life brought unexpected surprises, but Mary should understand that there would always be another concert, another chance to break away with her favorite band. Mary vowed that once she was better, she would definitely get tickets for the next show, no matter what. And until then, she had a whole playlist of their songs to hold on.

A. Mary was waiting for that day because of ...

A Chance Of A Lifetime

George was a typical high school student. One morning he had a usual routine — ate some cereal, put on his favorite hoodie and then rushed to school. When George entered the cafeteria, he noticed a huge banner hanging above the food line that read, "Battle of Talents - Sign Up Now!" Today his school was hosting a contest for a chance to win a summer internship at a local music studio. George played the guitar in his spare time and dreamt of becoming a music producer, but he never thought a simple contest could be his ticket to the big leagues.

His heart raced; he imagined his name in bright lights. He knew he had to try but felt those familiar butterflies fluttering in his stomach. What if he crashed and burned? After a moment of hesitation his friends pushed him to sign up, and before he knew it, he was standing on stage with the guitar in his hands, looking at the sea of faces. As he played, something magical happened; the nerves melted away, and he was in his element, playing every note and stress with passion.

As the last chord sounded, George was greeted with thunderous applause. It was like a wave of pure adrenaline crashing over him, and at that moment, he felt invincible. But the true exciting part of the story was when the head of the music studio, who judged the contest, approached him afterward. "You've got something special, guy. We are happy to invite you to our summer musical course", he said. It was at that moment when George realized that it was more than just a school event — it was his chance to make his dreams come true!

In the following weeks, George combined rehearsals with schoolwork, determined to make the most of this wonderful opportunity. He put his heart and soul into every practice session, building friendships with his bandmates and absorbing every bit of knowledge they shared. By the end of the summer, George had left not just with newfound skills and connections; he had left with a fire lit in him that would shape his future.

One Hectic Day

It was a usual Tuesday morning when Mr. Williams found himself dashing down the street, holding his coffee cup like it was the last one on Earth. Do you know that feeling when your day starts off on the wrong foot? Well, Mr. Williams was living that reality trying to balance his briefcase and make sense of a new presentation that he hadn't even looked at yet. He had stayed up late, so now he was paying the price. With each hurried step, he felt the warm coffee splashing dangerously close to the edge, and thoughts of the upcoming meeting flashed through his mind.

As he zigzagged through the crowd, trying not to bump into anyone, something unexpected happened. A skateboarder rushed by, and ironically, Mr. Williams stumbled forward. His coffee flew into the air like in slow motion, and for a moment he felt as if time had stopped as he watched it fly gracefully before splashing across the nearest bus stop. The astonished expressions on the faces of the morning passengers were priceless, and Mr. Williams, wiping coffee drops from his jacket, could not help but laugh at how ridiculous the whole scene was.

When Mr. Williams thought that everything was fine and he could save the day, he realized that he had lost track of time. He quickened his pace, hoping to get to the office without much damage to his professional image. It was like running a marathon, dodging people right and left, while mentally reviewing his notes for the presentation. His heart was beating wildly, and all he could think about was how he could deliver a perfect performance despite the coffee disaster.

Finally, Mr. Williams burst into his office building, slightly out of breath. When he entered the conference room, he was overwhelmed by a wave of relief. Everyone was already there, and fortunately they didn't seem to notice his being late or the coffee stains on his jacket. He told about an unpleasant incident that began his day in chaos and that brought a little humour to this serious meeting.

A Story From My Granny's Past

Let me tell you a wild story that my granny told me about one of her adventures when she was young. It was the summer of 1965, and my granny, just a teenager herself, was walking with her friends in the little town where they grew up. They had a big plan to sneak into the local carnival, which, as everyone knew, was closed to children their age, but the temptation of cotton candy and Ferris wheel rides was too great to resist. They dressed in their best outfits, giggling about how brave they were and feeling like rebels against all the "boring adult rules".

So, there they were, with hearts racing and adrenaline pumping as they tiptoed past the gate. Everything was going perfectly until they were spotted by a grumpy security guard who looked like he had just stepped out of a classic movie. Instead of running away, though, my brave granny stood her ground. She couldn't let anyone ruin their fun, so she started chatting with the guard, trying to charm him with her silly jokes and infectious laughter. To everyone's surprise, it actually worked! The guard ended up laughing and even gave them a warning instead of kicking them out. It was luck!

Just when they thought they were safe, they were spotted by the carnival owner. He was a tall man with thick mustache, and let's just say he wasn't in the mood to joke. While they were puzzling over what to do next, my grandmother had an idea that was as crazy as it was smart. She suggested they perform their own little show right here in front of the Ferris wheel. Together with her friends, they danced and sang, gathering a small crowd that cheered them on. The owner, trying to save his reputation, let them finish, and by the end of their spontaneous performance, he even forced a smile.

After that unforgettable day, my granny and her friends felt like they had conquered the world. Years later, she still laughs every time she remembers that adventure, saying it taught her that pranks, laughter and friendship always leave the best memories. And honestly, I think this story is a reminder to be spontaneous and create our own fun, no matter the circumstances!

A. Granny and her friends planned to sneak into ...

- 1) a school dance.
- 2) a movie theatre.
- 3) a local carnival.
- 4) a concert.

B. Granny tried to charm the security guard ...

- 1) by offering him candy.
- 2) by telling jokes and laughing.
- 3) by pretending to be lost.
- 4) by showing him her ticket.

C. After talking to Granny the security guard ...

- 1) called the police.
- 2) kicked them out.
- 3) ignored them.
- 4) laughed and gave them a warning.

D. When they were spotted by the carnival owner, Granny had an idea ...

- 1) to run away.
- 2) to hide behind the Ferris wheel.
- 3) to make a show in front of the Ferris wheel.
- 4) to ask for forgiveness.

E. From her adventure that she shared years later Granny learnt that ...

- 1) pranks and friendship can be remembered for years.
- 2) children shouldn't break adults' rules.
- 3) children should be taught to be spontaneous.
- 4) it wasn't fun to make pranks.

A Vocal Contest

It was an ordinary Friday afternoon when the announcement rang through the school's loudspeakers: "Attention, everyone! We are hosting a singing contest for duets this Saturday. If you feel like showing off your vocal skills, sign up!" Two classmates, Mia and Jason, who hadn't communicated until that moment, both were chosen to represent their class.

The day of the performance arrived and nerves were running high. Mia, a shy girl with a passion for music, had always dreamed of being a singer but never had the courage to get on stage. Jason, on the other hand, was known for his charisma and had performed in a few plays. Though it was something new for him, he knew he would handle. When they were paired up as a duet, they exchanged awkward smiles, realizing they were about to start an adventure together that neither of them had expected.

When they started rehearsing in the spare classroom, the initial awkwardness disappeared. They quickly discovered that there was an amazing harmony between them — Mia's soft, soulful voice perfectly matched Jason's energetic style. They spent the next few hours laughing, sharing stories about their favourite bands and even discussing their dreams for the future. Before they knew it, they were no longer just two random students; they had formed a connection that felt both exciting and comfortable at the same time.

When they finally took the stage, it felt like the whole world disappeared. They sang their hearts out, their voices sounded in a beautiful harmony that echoed through the auditorium. The crowd cheered, and as they took their final bow, Mia and Jason exchanged glances filled with pure joy and achievement. That spontaneous singing performance wasn't just about music; it was the moment that marked the beginning of friendship, teaching them that sometimes leaving the comfort zone leads to the most unforgettable experiences.

A. When Mia and Jason were chosen to represent their class in the singing contest ...

- 1) Mia was excited, but Jason was nervous.
- 2) both Mia and Jason were excited.
- 3) both Mia and Jason were nervous.
- 4) Mia was nervous, but Jason was excited.

B. Mia and Jason felt ... when they started rehearsing together.

- 1) awkward.
- 2) nervous.
- 3) comfortable.
- 4) annoyed.

C. When they started rehearsing, Mia and Jason discovered that ...

- 1) they sounded terrible together.
- 2) they had amazing harmony.
- 3) they needed more practice.
- 4) they didn't enjoy singing together.

D. After the performance Mia and Jason ...

- 1) never spoke again.
- 2) were pleased with themselves.
- 3) tried to avoid looking at each other.
- 4) sang one more song.

E. From their spontaneous singing performance Mia and Jason learnt that ...

- 1) leaving the comfort zones can lead to success.
- 2) they should never sing in public again.
- 3) they should never perform together again.
- 4) they were not good singers.

Helping A Friend

It was a typical Saturday afternoon, and Jake was at the local park with his friends. They were tossing around a soccer ball, laughing and living their best teen life when suddenly someone's backpack went missing. It wasn't just any backpack — it was filled with all sorts of important stuff, including a brand-new tablet. Jake couldn't just stand by while his friend felt upset, so he decided to take matters into his own hands and solve the mystery.

Jake started by interviewing his friends, figuring out every little thing. "When was the last time you saw this?" "Who was nearby?" And as he gathered evidence, a chronology of events developed in his head. Then he played a detective, exploring the park in search of suspicious individuals. On a sudden impulse, he headed to the snack stand, where he noticed a guy with a strange smile and a backpack that looked all too familiar. Adrenaline was pumping, but he kept cool.

Jake took a brave step, approached the guy and casually asked about the backpack. The guy laughed it off, but Jake didn't believe it. He remembered the distinctive stickers that decorated his friend's bag and named them. "Hey, is there a zipper sticker on this backpack?" Suddenly, the guy's expression changed and he started sweating a little. Jake, supported by his friends, continued to press, and in the end the guy finally admitted that he had just borrowed it without asking.

In the end, Jake returned the backpack, and his friends were happy as if he had just scored the winning goal. What started as an anxious day had turned into an exciting detective adventure. It helped Jake gain self-confidence. Besides, now he had an amazing story to tell, and, who knows, maybe he would open his own detective club one day!

A. Jake and his friends noticed that ... was missing.

- 1) a soccer ball.
- 2) a table.
- 3) one of the teens.
- 4) a backpack.

B. Jake started his investigation ...

A Funny Incident

Mrs. Lawrence was known as a pleasant chemistry teacher who always seemed to have love for drama. One sunny afternoon, she decided to conduct a small outdoor science experiment for her teen students. The plan was to demonstrate the effects of chemical reactions using a little baking soda and vinegar. With her trusty assistant — a large balloon filled with baking soda — she confidently outlined the details. Her enthusiasm was infectious.

When Mrs. Lawrence began her demonstration, her excitement reached its peak. She theatrically poured vinegar into the balloon, intending to create a colossal hiss. In the heat of her enthusiasm, she ignored the main rule of explosive chemical reactions: never mix vinegar with too much liquid. Suddenly, the balloon burst with a loud pop, throwing up a geyser of foamy liquid around her. The students couldn't help but laugh when Mrs. Lawrence, covered with a mixture of sticky vinegar and baking soda, looked like she had just gone through a car wash with foam.

Realizing that she had inadvertently become the star of her own farcical comedy, Mrs. Lawrence laughed with her students. She wiped a trickle of bubbly liquid from her forehead and said, "Well, this is one of the ways to make science memorable!" Instead of feeling embarrassed, she turned this incident into an instructive moment. While the students were still giggling, she explained what was behind the incident, providing the remaining class with not only an interesting story, but also a deeper understanding of chemical reactions.

From that day on, Mrs. Lawrence became a kind of legend at school, and the children were enthusiastic about scientific experiments, especially those that were accompanied by a healthy amount of humour. From time to time, her students jokingly asked if she would "blow up balloons" in the next class. Mrs. Lawrence just smiled, playfully reminding them that, although science can be difficult, it's always more fun when you accept the unexpected, especially when it causes a hearty laugh and unforgettable memories.

A. Mrs. Lawrence was known for ...

- 1) her love for provoking emotions.
- 2) her strict discipline.
- 3) her dislike for experiments.
- 4) her expertise in physics.

B. For her outdoor science experiment Mrs. Lawrence used ...

As for me, it usually takes me about 10 minutes to wake up. I like to lie in the bed a little thinking over my day. You know, if I have an important thing to do, I usually set a reminder. It helps me keep promises and do everything on time. Actually, the last thing that I do before sleeping is checking my social net account or, sometimes, I revise a poem or a text from the student's book. Write back soon. Best wishes, Nikita (104 words)
Вариант 7	32341	32431	exciting me have been seeking were more rewarding	Hello Russell, Thank you for your email. I'm glad to hear from you. You asked me about DIY. Actually, I'm not so good at DIY. Of course, I can make something easy, like a bird feeder or a birthday card. But building a doghouse or something like that is not my level. In fact, sometimes I watch DIY videos in the Internet and admire people who have talents to make objects by their hands. As for me, my best handmade thing was an apron which I sewed at school Technology lessons. We learnt to make parts of an apron and sew them together. I presented mine to my mum. Write back soon. Best wishes, Mary (115 words)
Вариант 8	23124	43221	leaves guessed feelings to understand better	Dear Elsie, Thank you for your email. I'm glad to hear from you. You asked me about dreams. As for me, I often remember my dreams. They remain in memory in the form of images or feelings. In fact, the brightest dream I remember is the one that I had in my childhood. I saw a huge wave, rising from the river and falling on my window. Actually, I wasn't afraid but excited. You know, once I had a nightmare with zombies. I was hiding in my room and was scared that one of them would see me through the window. I think I watched too many horror films. Write back soon. Best wishes, Sergey (115 words)
Вариант 9	24132	42133	shaping us has become latest to stay	Hello Amelie, Thank you for your email. I'm glad to hear from you. You asked me about gifts. Actually, I prefer getting items as a gift. Some of them can create memories of the people who gave them. However, I don't mind getting money, too. Actually, if I like a present, I will thank a person emotionally. If I don't like a gift, I will never show that and will thank a person anyway. I usually value attention more than things. Honestly, I can't remember the worst gift I've ever got. Maybe it was a vase or something like that. Write back soon. Best wishes, Nadya (106 words)
Вариант 10	43213	13234	difficulties have been growing up characters' (character's) these	Dear Edwin, Thank you for your email. I'm glad to hear from you. You asked me about laziness. I must confess, I often feel lazy, too, and put off doing unwanted things. That's because of being tired, in my opinion. Actually, when I feel lazy, I usually lie on the sofa and listen to music or watch my favourite shows online. Well, to overcome laziness I imagine how happy and free I would feel if I did important things first and then had a rest. It gives me energy to finish my affairs faster. Write back soon. Best wishes, Timur (100 words)

Система оценивания проверочной работы

Для корректного выполнения заданий 1-3 требуется указание точной последовательности цифр и изменённых слов. За каждое правильное соответствие в заданиях 1 и 2 участнику начисляется 1 балл. В задании 3 за каждое правильно преобразованное слово начисляется 1 балл. Ответы к заданию 3 признаются неверными, если в грамматической форме допущена орфографическая ошибка, однако разрешается писать составные (аналитические) грамматические формы слитно. Максимальное количество баллов, выставляемых за каждое задание, составляет 5 баллов (каждый верный ответ равен одному баллу).

Оценивание ответа на задание 4 осуществляется на основе критериев, учитывающих точность и полноту ответа.

Критерии оценивания задания 4 («Электронное письмо»)	Баллы
К1. Решение коммуникативной задачи	3
Задание выполнено в полном объёме; содержание соответствует всем аспектам задания: – три вопроса раскрыты полными и точными ответами; – письмо оформлено стилистически верно, учитывая цель высказывания и адресат (обращение, завершающая фраза и подпись); – присутствуют стандарты вежливого общения в данном языке (признательность за полученное письмо или/и положительная реакция на его получение, надежда на дальнейшие контакты). Возможен один неполный или неточный аспект	3
Задание выполнено по большей степени: возможен один нераскрытый аспект, ИЛИ два-три неполных или неточных аспекта	2
Задание выполнено в частичном виде: все случаи, помимо указанных в оценке на 3, 2 и 0 баллов	1
Задание не выполнено: возможны три и более нераскрытых аспекта, ИЛИ пять неполных или неточных аспектов	0
К2. Организация текста	2
Текст составлен логично с верным разделением на абзацы; соблюдается корректное применение средств логической связи; структура текста соответствует стандартам письменного общения, принятым в данном языке. Принимается одна ошибка в организации текста	2
Присутствуют две-три ошибки в построении текста	1
Присутствуют четыре и более ошибки в построении текста	0
К3. Лексико-грамматическое оформление текста	3
Приведённая лексика и грамматические конструкции соотносятся с уровнем сложности задания, принимается одна лексико-грамматическая ошибка	3
Приведённая лексика и грамматические конструкции не полностью соотносятся с уровнем сложности задания, присутствуют две-три лексико-грамматические ошибки	2
Приведённая лексика и грамматические конструкции не полностью соотносятся с уровнем сложности задания, присутствуют четыре лексико-грамматические ошибки	1
Приведённая лексика и грамматические конструкции не соотносятся с уровнем сложности задания, присутствуют пять и более лексико-грамматических ошибок	0
К4. Орфография и пунктуация	2
Орфография и пунктуация практически без ошибок (принимаются не более двух орфографических и/или пунктуационных ошибок)	2
Присутствуют три-четыре орфографические и/или пунктуационные ошибки	1
Присутствует много орфографических и/или пунктуационных ошибок (пять и более ошибок)	0
Максимальный балл	10

Примечание.

1. Оценка выполнения задания 4 (электронного письма) производится в соответствии с критериями К1–К4, где 10 - максимально возможное количество баллов.
2. Задание 4 оценивается в 0 баллов, если по критерию «Решение коммуникативной задачи» письмо набирает 0 баллов.
3. Если количество слов в письме составляет менее 81, то выставляется 0 баллов по всем критериям. При превышении количества слов сверх 121, оцениваются только первые 110 слов, соответствующие объему, указанному в задании.
4. При подсчёте количества слов в письме учитываются все слова текста, начиная с обращения и заканчивая подписью, а также артикли, частицы, предлоги и вспомогательные глаголы.

При этом:

- сокращённые (стяжённые) формы (например, she's, it's, don't, didn't) засчитываются как одно слово;
- числительные в виде цифр (например, 7, 34, 2022, 245 381) засчитываются как одно слово;
- числительные в виде слов (например, thirty-four) засчитываются как одно слово;
- составные слова (например, hard-working, south-western, home-made) засчитываются как одно слово;
- сокращения и аббревиатуры (например, USA, e-book, IT) засчитываются как одно слово.

Система оценивания выполнения всей работы

Общий первичный балл за всю работу – 25.

Рекомендации по переводу первичных баллов в отметки по пятибалльной шкале.

Отметка по пятибалльной шкале	«2»	«3»	«4»	«5»
Первичные баллы	0-9	10-14	15-21	22-25
